

Anna Marie Williams Interview

Now for another treat, let's meet Anna Marie Williams of ROUND THE CLOCK. Here's her interview with Donna Byrd of Lifestyle Magazine.

DB: Hi Anna Marie, thanks for joining us today. I know that you have a very busy schedule with your dance studio.

AMW: Yes, but I'm used to doing interviews and I love promoting my business.

DB: Why?

AMW: Because dance is what helped me escape my past and I want to give others the chance to enjoy this wonderful way to stay healthy both physically and emotionally.

DB: I know that you were put into the foster system early. Have you ever reconnected with your parents?

AMW: No. I never heard from my mother again once my sister and I were taken out of the house.

DB: Would you ever want to find her?

AMW: No, I have the family I want now and don't need to dig up the past.

DB: Is there anything you'd say to her?

AMW: Not particularly. I hope she's happy because I certainly am.

DB: Yes, I've met your husband and I can certainly see why. But just to look at the past a little more I have to ask how did you end up with your ex-boyfriend Bruno?

AMW: (Groans) That's a question I've asked myself many times. I was lonely and he was good looking and I felt flattered that he was interested in me so it seemed like a good idea.

DB: I know that you like wearing different stockings. Do you have a favorite pair?

AMW: Yes, it's a full body one, which I'd recommend for every woman.

DB: Why is it your favorite?

AMW: Because Desmond really enjoys watching me take them off <smile>
